

Concepts and Vocabulary

Primary Election, General Elections

CUES

- Main Ideas • Vocabulary
- Question Answered by Notes

NOTES

- Main Points • Paraphrase • Bullet Points • Outlines • Important dates, People and Places
- Formulas • Charts / Diagrams

Voter Registration

To participate in any Indiana election, individual must _____ to vote

You Have the Right to Vote

If:

1.You are both a _____ and a resident of _____

2.You are at least _____ years of age

3.You are not currently in _____

4.You have lived in the precinct where you for at least _____ days

5.You are registered _____

Primary Elections

Indiana hold primary elections are held in _____ to determine the _____ who will represent each _____ in the _____ election

General Elections

General election are held in _____ and determine the _____ for various _____

The candidate who receives the _____ votes is declared the winner

Presidential Elections

Indiana participates in the selection of the _____ and _____ of the United States through the _____ College system

Indiana has _____ electoral votes

The candidate who _____ the _____ vote in the state receives _____ of these votes

The _____ from each _____ district select one elector, with two more elected _____ during the convention

Local and State Offices

The election process for _____ and _____ offices follows a _____ pattern as _____ offices

Special Elections

Special elections may be called to fill _____ positions or address specific issues. The process for special elections follows a _____ structure to _____ elections.

Absentee and Early Voting	Indiana offers _____ voting options for those who cannot vote in person on _____ Day. This includes voting _____ or voting in-person at designated _____ voting locations.
Voter Identification	Indiana has _____ voter identification requirements
Voter Turnout	Voter turnout in Indiana can vary depending on the _____ Fundamental Understanding Question

When do you think voter turnout is at its highest rate on average? Explain your thoughts.